
Choosing CityIQ as Your Career Partner

There are many reasons to choose CityIQ as your career partner:

- We are committed to building long term business relationships with our consultants, contractors and candidates
- We specialise in the Securities industry and have a thorough understanding of our sector and the companies that make it work
- We spend time getting to know all our consultants, contractors and permanent candidates and what they want from their career
- We are small enough to care about individual candidates; offering a personalised service that is relationship, not numbers, driven
- We are sufficiently well known in the market to attract large, prestigious clients offering significant opportunities with highly competitive packages
- We understand the market and can provide career advice; and advise on CV presentation, interview techniques, rates and salaries, and the advantages of choosing either a contract or permanent placement
- We provide cross-training events and an active social network.
